

THERE'S A HIDING PLACE

Uncle Henry

Henry de Fluiter, 1948

1. There's a hiding place a-wait-ing, And a rock in a wear - y land; ✓
 2. There's a hiding place a-wait-ing, 'Tis a calm and a safe re-treat;
 3. There's a hiding place a-wait-ing, When the dark -ness of night is come;

There's a shel-ter for the pil-grim ✓ From the burn-ing des - ert sand.
 Where the Sav-iour bids us wel-come, Lay our bur-dens at His feet.
 When the earth shall reel and trem-ble, He will take His loved ones home.

A hid-ing place from storm and tempest, When I be - A hid-ing place

hold When I be - hold His smil - ing face, No foe can His smil - ing face, harm me, no fears a - larm me, I find in Je - sus my hid - ing place.

 FF intense PP

Copyright 1948, by Henry de Fluiter. Arrangement by Wayne Hooper, August, 1963

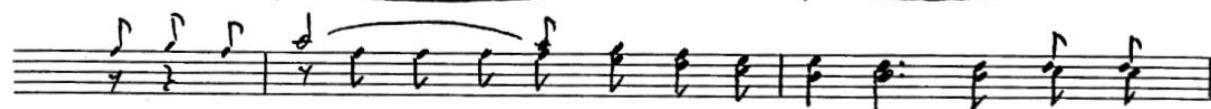

There's a Hiding Place (2)

2. There's a hid - ing place a - wait - ing, Tis a calm and a safe re - treat;

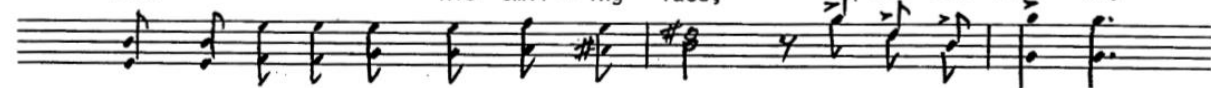

Where the Sav - iour bids us wel - come, Lay our bur - dens at His feet.

A hid - ing place A hid - ing place from storm and tem - pest, When I be - hold When I be - hold His smil - ing face, No foe can harm me, no fears a - larm - me, I find in Je - sus my hid - ing place.

