

The Church Hymnal

THE NEW HYMNAL.*

It is not quite safe for the reviewer, nor quite gracious toward the reviewed, to dissect a book before it is born, but Dr. Hutchins, by his bringing out of this advance instalment of his Hymnal, rather compels one unwillingly to follow Jeffrey's advice to Sidney Smith never to read the book which he purposed to criticise, lest by so doing he should prejudice his mind. We wish that the whole of this setting of the new Hymnal could be placed before us at once, since the issue of the remainder will probably reveal the existence within its covers of many tunes which we have been much disappointed not to find attached to certain hymns included in this first instalment. However, we must take this portion of the book for what it is, and, to some degree, as an earnest of what the rest of the collection, in its general features at least, is to be.

Dr. Hutchins has had the editorial assistance of Mr. H. W. Parker, and of Mr. Warren Locke (of Harvard University and St. Paul's church, Boston), the mention of whose names is ample guarantee of the technical accuracy of their work. Perhaps we should have said critical, rather than editorial assistance, because that is the word used by Dr. Hutchins himself in his prospectus, and it probably more accurately describes the character of the services of these gentlemen, as there are a number of selections and adaptations which do not look like their work.

* "The first 108 hymns from the revised and enlarged Hymnal, with music," edited by the Rev. Charles L. Hutchins. Boston: The Parish Choir.

First of all, we have to thank Dr. Hutchins for a well-made and readable page-form and for the fact that the hymns bear names of both author and composer. And we have doubly to thank him for having adopted the quarter note as the standard of value throughout the book. It makes a much more convenient score to read from than the old fashioned half note, especially for the accompanist who has to play with one eye on the page and the other on his choir.

Dr. Hutchins has adhered to his practice (borrowed from some of the English hymnals and followed in his former collection), of sprinkling the page with what are called "expression marks." These have always seemed to us rather a hindrance than a help. Organists and choirs whose work is of sufficient artistic skill and finish to execute them do not need nor, generally, heed them, while those who have not the requisite ability cannot make use of them if they would. But admitting that they have a value, there are too many of them. The editor has punctiliously attended to the killing letter, while the life-giving spirit has been left to shift for itself. In many cases he has looked only at a single line, or a single word in a line, rather than at the thought underlying the whole sentence or verse. Look at this verse—from Hymn 76:

mf. "Prophecy will fade away,
dim. Melting in the light of day;
cr. Love will ever with us stay;
mf. Therefore give us love."

Why should there be a diminuendo at the second line? Apparently because of the presence of the word "melting"; but why should there not be a similar mark at the first line to portray the fading away of prophecy? All the "expression" that the commonplace verse is susceptible of would be abundantly secured by the single word crescendo (if there must be something of the kind) at the third line, bringing into contrast the evanescence of the one gift and the stability of the other.

Or take the following, from Hymn 7:

p. "The weary world is mouldering to decay.
Its glories wane, its pageants fade away;
cr. In that last sunset when the stars shall fall,
ff. May we arise, awakened by Thy call;
dim. With Thee, O Lord, forever to abide,
cr. In that best day which knows no eventide."

We respectfully submit that to sing this with literal obedience to the marks would result in an effect not very far short of the ludicrous. It would be analogous to that produced by what is known to organists as "swell-pumping." Would not every requirement of the thought have been met by allowing the first crescendo to proceed with uninterrupted sweep and gathering volume to the end of the verse? There are numerous examples of this all through the book.

But let us have at the tunes. We never noticed before that the Hymnal Commission had given us only five morning hymns as against eighteen for the evening time. Among those for matins appears a good tune by the Rev. Dr. Hodges for "Come, my soul, thou must be waking," and another by E. J. Hopkins for "Every morning mercies new." Coming to the evening hymns we strike a good tune by Ebenezer Prout for "O brightness of th' Immortal Father's face." "The day is gently sinking" has Henry Smart's ever beautiful tune, and a good one by Barnby. Dr. Messiter's fine setting is omitted, and a place might deservedly have been given to Mr. Stubb's tune. "The radiant morn" appears to Sir Frederick Onseley's familiar and lovely tune, and to a less well known one by Barnby. A pretty adaptation from Gounod for these words is absent. "The sun is sinking fast" is treated by H. S. Irons and by Dr. Hopkins, both well known. W. H. Monk's tune for "Abide with me" is present, of the second tune of this hymn is Dr. Hopkins's tune, originally written for "Saviour, again to Thy dear name we raise." We think this would better have been left where Dr. Hopkins put it, and Barnby's incomparable chant substituted. Mr. A. A. Wild, of the Church of the Annunciation, furnishes a very graceful and flowing tune for "The shadows of the evening hours." It is unfortunate in having for a vis à vis Dr. Hiles's "St. Leonard," which rather obscures its lustre. We find Sir John Goss's name at "Saviour, breathe an evening blessing." As the second tune for "All praise to Thee, my God, this night," we find a tune which in a number of other books is called "Quebec," but which appears here, with an alteration or two in the melody, under the alias of "Hesperus." It is attributed to Henry Baker, but several other editors have credited it to Mr. James Pearce, sometime organist of Christ church, and we had always supposed it to be his. Will Mr. Pearce kindly rise and explain? We are glad to see Dr. Hopkins's "God that madest earth and heaven," and Mr. Parker's "Our day of praise is done." For "O day of rest and gladness" we find three settings, a rather light and lively one by J. W. Elliott, Dr. Hodges's well-known tune and one by Dr. Dykes. Both Dr. Stainer's and Mr. Tours's fine tunes are conspicuous by their absence, but doubtless they will appear elsewhere in the book. "This is the day of light" gets a new (to us) setting by Sir Herbert Oakeley, and a good one, and the cockles of our heart warm at meeting on the next page the name of good, sturdy old Jones of Nayland, over the notes of the massive "St. Stephen," which is well adapted to "With joy we hail the sacred day." There is a fine tune for these words by the late James Turle, which might have been inserted. The first tune to "Saviour, again to Thy dear name we raise," is Dr. Dykes's beautiful one, which should not have been divorced from "As pants the wearied hart," and the second is Dr. Hopkins's in unison (transposed a half tone lower—which is well) with varied harmonies. The accompaniment, however, differs from that originally published by the composer. "Lo, He comes, with clouds descending," is furnished with two settings (both from the old hymnals); we wish some one would write a tune worthy of these words and send it to us. E. H. Thorne is represented by a brilliant and striking adaptation of "Wake, awake, for night is flying," and W. S. Skeffington by a rather rollicking processional to "Rejoice, believers." The tunes provided for "While shepherds watched" are not good, though one has the sanction of long use. The Rev. Mr. Fuller, of Syracuse, has a page all to himself with a setting of "Christians, awake," and Mr. Roper, formerly of the Church of the Holy Communion, has one for a carol-like little composition, "Sing, O sing, this blessed morn," which seems to us rather juvenile to be found in this portion of the Hymnal. "O little town of Bethlehem" finds two adapters—Sir Joseph Barnby and Mr. L. H. Redner—both good. In Mr. Redner's tune there is a mis-print in the next bar to the last.

But what is this? Surely, nothing less than Mendelssohn's Song without Words "Consolation," set to "Brightest and best of the sons of the morning."

Certainly Mr. Parker and Mr. Locke were out of town when this deed was perpetrated. They would never have stood by and suffered it.

The Epiphany and Septuagesima hymns do not call for especial comment except in the case of number 74—"In exile here we wander"—which appears to a very uninteresting tune attributed to Michael Haydn. Why was not Dr. Philip Armes's magnificent setting given a place? There are a score of tunes in the book that might better have been spared.

But we must hasten through the Lenten pages. The first thing that strikes the eye is a setting by Josiah Booth for "Christian, dost thou see them?" It is somewhat theatrical, but will probably be all the more popular for that, and will prove a welcome relief to choristers who have been urged to "up and smite them" for so many years to Dr. Dykes's now rather threadbare tune.

Redhead's familiar composition is found to "Go to dark Gethsemane," while Sir Frederick Onseley's much more grand and impressive one is passed by. W. S. Hoyte, of All Saints', Margaret street, London, sends a splendid setting of "Now, my soul, thy voice upraising"; we hope he will fill some other portions of the completed book with music as good as this. The last of the noticeable pages contains a fine plainsong for "At the cross her station keeping," capable of great variety of treatment.

Dr. Hutchins announced in his prospectus that those features which had contributed toward securing for his settings of the old Hymnal their wide popularity would be retained in the present work. Of course we cannot know what he considers were the strongest points of his former books, but to our thinking they were, first, the presence of a large number of tunes of the old English School of Psalmody, and of those composed by the late Lowell Mason and the coterie of writers who took pattern from him; and, second, the judicious intermingling with these of a fair number of compositions of what may, for want of a better term, be called the modern English type, as represented by the works of such men as Barnby, Smart, Dykes, et id omne genus.

Let us take the first 108 hymns of Dr. Hutchins's last edition of the old Hymnal and leave out of consideration all tunes having continental sources, whether original or adapted. We find these 108 hymns set to 129 tunes. Of these (counting every repetition as a new tune) there are 28 of the Old English psalmody, 13 by Lowell Mason, 2 by William B. Bradbury and 48 of the modern English order.

In the book before us we find 108 hymns set to 174 tunes. There are but 23 of the old English type, Lowell Mason's 13 are reduced to 2, and Mr. Bradbury disappears altogether, we believe. Over against these stand 99 tunes of the modern English style (we include American compositions) some of them of a pattern beside which that of Dykes or Smart (once considered most ultra-modern) is archaic indeed.

Now, these "modern" tunes are very attractive, but they are in their very form and essence fit only for choirs. Though congregations may, and sometimes do, attempt to sing them, the result is puny; and if the part singing of the chromatic harmonies is undertaken by the "plain people" the carnage of intervals is enough to make one's teeth chatter.

Doubtless Dr. Hutchins would say that taste has changed in the matter of Church music. So it has, and the Reverend Doctor is no neophyte at hymn-book making, and ought to be able to form a shrewd and far-seeing judgment as to the quality he would best purvey; but if this instalment be a fair sample of the whole book, it seems to us that as a collection for congregational use it will not dispute the ground occupied by Dr. Messiter. At all events, we shall look eagerly for the remainder, and shall watch with interest (so far as one can from an outside position) the course of its adoption by churches as a gauge of the distance to which we have drifted from our musical moorings of a few years ago; for it seems to us that it will come about as near being a very excellent choir Hymnal as could well be made.

We have to thank the Rev. Charles Hutchins, D.D., for a kindly letter showing that he has received our review of the "108 Hymns" in the fair and friendly spirit in which it certainly was meant.

While the Doctor's letter is not "for publication," he will surely pardon us if we venture a word on three of the points on which he differs with us.

He feels that we should not have compared the "108 Hymns" with the first 108 of the old Hymnal, on account of the dissimilarity of the subjects, and the fact that the first portion of the new book contains more new hymns (and consequently more new tunes), than some other parts. To this we reply that we certainly meant to take no unfair method of comparison. We think that to have taken 108 hymns in succession anywhere out of the old book and placed them in the "deadly parallel" with the new, would have shown about the same result. However, any one who has a copy of each can easily satisfy himself on this point.

As to the setting of Mendelssohn's "Consolation" to "Brightest and best of the Sons of the morning," Dr. Hutchins cites E. J. Hopkins as his authority, and justly says he has a strong precedent. It seems so, surely; but even so distinguished a name as that of Dr. Hopkins can hardly justify so incongruous an adaptation, and we beg to remind Dr. Hutchins that Hopkins has done even worse than this in arranging the first "Song without Words" in the first book of those pieces to the hymn, "It came upon the midnight clear." The fact is, the "Lieder ohne worte" are compositions for the piano—nothing more nor less—and they cannot be made to sing well. They are just what their composer said they were—"Songs without Words." To convert them into songs with words is to directly reverse Mendelssohn's plain intention. And the same thing can be said of a good many other arrangements, in all hymn books.

In respect to the "Expression marks," from communications we have received and conversations we have held with some of the best organists in New York since the review was written, we are firm in the belief that we have the "sense of the meeting" with us, in spite of the authority of English Hymnals.

In our review of Dr. Hutchins's "108 hymns," published in THE CHURCHMAN of Jan. 4, we gave a somewhat detailed description of the tunes then put forth, in order that the attention of readers might be drawn toward what seemed to be promised as the distinctive features of the whole collection. The narrow limits of the ground covered by that review made it possible for us to enter into minute particulars, to a degree which is, of course, entirely out of the question when discussing the 802 pages which form the bulk of the book now in hand. We must, therefore, be content with more general observations.

On the first view of the "108 hymns," we were favorably impressed with the style in which the pages had been printed; but on looking over the whole book, and especially after comparing it with the beautifully clear and open typography of the new "Tucker," we are forced to recant our previous opinion. When one scans the pages of the completed volume, he becomes more sensible of the effort to crowd as much matter as possible within a given space, an effort which, in many cases, sets lines and verses too near together for comfort in reading, or splits a hymn or even a verse in half, and divides it between two leaves.

We have heretofore alluded to the "expression marks" provided in this book, a feature which the editor seems to regard as highly important. There are also metronome marks, as is the case in Dr. Messiter's collection. We cannot see that these have any value, except in so far as they acquaint us with some one's opinion (Mr. Parker's perhaps), instead of Dr. Messiter's. A rather hasty comparison seems to show that the speed is usually indicated somewhat faster than Dr. Messiter has chosen for his tunes, but the differences are not very marked.

One of the first noticeable points in the new book is the omission after each of the principal divisions or subjects of the collection of the words "also the following," with the numbers and first lines of the other hymns suited to that particular season or topic, but which are to be found under other heads. To supply this omission Dr. Hutchins provides an index or list of "Hymns suitable for Church seasons and special services," in which the searcher may find all the first lines of words suitable to a given occasion grouped together, no matter where, in the pages. This special index seems to us useful and convenient, but we regret that it has been allowed to means provided, the facilities for readily looking up a hymn for any particular season would have been perfect. As it is, we do not perceive that any advantage has been gained by this method.

Taking up the matter of the adaptations, we do not find so many instances as we would wish of tunes which seem eminently

* The Church Hymnal, revised and enlarged, with music, edited by the Rev. Charles L. Hutchins, [Boston: The Parish Choir.]

well fitted to their words; on the contrary, one has a certain feeling that, in the multitude of cases where hymns have not become fixedly associated with particular tunes, the adapting has been done in a somewhat haphazard manner. Not that hymns and tunes are conspicuously ill-matched, but that they do not seem to be conspicuously well-matched. The effect of very many of the settings is as though the editor had had a box of assorted tunes at his elbow, and on the frequent occasions when no appropriate section occurred to his mind had drawn from his stock one of suitable metre and let it go at that. Curiously enough, this result has been reached by a directly opposite method, for we are informed that Dr. Hutchins some time ago sent out an extended list of hymns to a large number of organists throughout the country, with the request that each indicate his choice of tunes for the words mentioned, and that largely from the data so obtained the adaptations in the present book have been made. If this is true, it easily accounts for the insipid and flavorless character of many of the settings. In the preface Dr. Hutchins says: "The editor has sought to keep in mind not only the great variety of occasions and services for which the Hymnal provides, but the equally great variety of tastes, and he might well add needs, of those who will use it. Influenced and guided in his work by these two considerations more than by any other (italics ours), he hopes that the musical edition of the Hymnal of the Church may be found helpful not only in city parishes having well-trained choirs, but in country parishes and missions and homes; above all, that it may do something toward the increase of congregational singing." We think there has been an attempt here to occupy too wide a field. A noted Hymnal can hardly be a choir-collection, a congregational book of psalmody, a parochial missions hymn-book, a Sunday-school song book, and a " Fireside Companion," and be very successful in any one of its many characters, but when to this is added an endeavor to furnish such a comprehensive selection of music that there every conceivable taste and anticipate every imaginable set of conditions, there is danger that the thesaurus will degenerate into a mere "omnium gatherum"—a danger which it seems to us has not been avoided with entire success in this book.

There are also quite a number of cases where repeated tunes are made to shift about to follow words of quite diverse character. Here are some of them: the old tune "Bedford" appears at No. 221 set to "O God, unseen, yet ever near"—a hymn in which the hush of awe in presence of the mystery of the Blessed Sacrament is predominant. The next time we find it (at No. 456) it is adapted to the rapturous outburst:

"Thou, Lord, all glory, honour, power, Art worthy to receive."

At No. 201 there is a beautiful tune by Dr. Stainer called "Cross of Jesus." It is taken from the composer's cantata, "The Crucifixion," and is there set to a hymn the subject of which is "The Mystery of the Divine Humiliation"—the first verse is as follows:

"Cross of Jesus, Cross of sorrow,
Where the blood of Christ was shed,
Perfect man on thee was tortured,
Perfect God on thee has bled."

It would seem as though this should have been set to a hymn as nearly like that for which it was composed as possible, but we find it first to "Dread Jehovah, God of nations," a hymn for a national fast, and the second time it appears to the triumphant

"In the Cross of Christ I glory, Tow'ring o'er the wrecks of time."

"St. Alphege" is set twice; the first time to "The voice that breathed o'er Eden"—a wedding hymn; the second time to "Brief life is here our portion"—a funeral hymn.

Mendelssohn's "Consolation," to which we referred in our review of the "108 hymns," is not only set to "Brightest and best of the sons of the morning," but to "As pants the wearied hart for cooling springs." This tune, by the bye, is indexed under two names, "Brightest and best" and "Aspiration." At No. 156 there is a tune called "Mittit ad Virginem" (a very clumsy title); at No. 412 precisely the same tune reappears under the name "King of Love." We cannot imagine what can have been the reason for these unnecessary titles: there is confusion enough in this direction already without making it worse confounded by calling the same bit of music by two different names in the same book.

There seems to have been no especial effort in the direction of obtaining original compositions. The number of American tunes is small compared with those of the new "Tucker." The most of those which have found admittance are good, but they can hardly be said to constitute a marked feature. Mr. Parker has been very modest with his own compositions: indeed, it seems to us that he has given more of his best things to Dr. Tucker than he has kept for himself. Of course his splendid "O 'twas a joyful sound to hear" is to be found, and also "Christ is our Corner-stone"—a tune for which we have a high admiration.

What appears to be the most striking characteristic of the Hymnal, as compared with the old "Hutchins," is the great reduction in the number of what people call "the old tunes"—that is tunes (whether really old or not) which have become familiar and more or less dear to most American congregations. In our previous review we noted the almost complete elimination of the works of Lowell Mason from the "108 hymns," and the fact that the tunes of the old English psalmody were not given a representation proportionate to the increased size of the collection. Dr. Hutchins took exception to this, stating that the "old tunes" would appear later in the book. Here are the names of some which have been omitted from the present volume: "Obridge," "Ariel," "Ozmon," "Benevento," "Balerma," "Bowen," "Carlisle," "Coventry," "Darley," "Dublin," "Elberfeld," "Ernan," "Evan," "Farrant," "Greenwood," "Hummel," "Illa," "Lisbon," "Lubeck," "Mason," "Meribah," "Merton" (Oliver's tune, not Dykes's), "Nashville," "Newcourt," "Nottingham," "Old 113th," "Peterborough," "Rosefield," "St. Mary's" (used three times in the old book), "State Street," "Surrey," "Uxbridge." Each of the last two was used four times in the old book. We also point out that the number of repetitions of such of the "old tunes" as have been allowed to remain has greatly diminished. "Hebron" has been cut down from 7 times to 1, "Olmutz" from 6 to 2, "Mornington" from 3 to 2, "Grace Church" from 6 to 2, "Marlow" from 3 to 1, "Hamburg" from 5 to 2, "Martyrdom" from 9 to 3, "Zephyr" from 2 to 1, "Ward" from 3 to 2, "Burlington" from 3 to 1, "Federal Street" from 7 to 4, "Darwall" from 3 to 1, "Mear" from 4 to 1, "Mendon" from 5 to 2, "Belmont" from 5 to 2, "Thacher" from 4 to 2, "Manoah" from 3 to 1, "St. Thomas" from 5 to 3, "Truro" from 6 to 3, "Bedford" from 3 to 2, "Dundee" from 4 to 3, "Arlington" from 3 to 2, "Naomi," from 2 to 1, "Missionary Chant" from 3 to 1, "Missionary Hymn" from 2 to 1, "Laban" from 2 to 1, "Wareham" from 9 to 4, "Bonn" ("Germany") from 5 to 3, "Dedham" from 3 to 1, "Lambeth" from 6 to 2, "Old 100th" from 6 to 4, "Toplady" from 2 to 1, "Martyn," from 2 to 1, "St. Agnes" from 6 to 3, "Warrington" from 4 to 3.

The aggregate number of representations given to these tunes in the old book was 154, in the new it is but 72; take also into consideration the number thrown out altogether, with their repetitions, and it will be seen that the reduction has been a very sweeping one—especially so in view of the increased size of the new collection.

We do not appear as apologist for all of these tunes. Many of them are not triumphs of originality nor marvels of erudition. It is quite the fashion nowadays to look down upon the work of Lowell Mason, as having been all very well in its time, but really of no present value, and we do not intend to be drawn into any argument concerning the abstract merit of his music. We will, however, hazard the assertion that Lowell Mason did more to advance congregational singing than any other man in the history of American church music, and that his tunes were written for the people, and obtained a hold upon the people and most of them retain their life and vigor to this day among the churches of the denominations. The tunes of the English psalmody have the same characteristics; so have the German chorales. Those persons who bow in the dust before a Gregorian tone should by all means cling the closer to some of Dr. Mason's tunes, for they are founded directly upon the tones:—"Hamburg" on the fourth and "Olmütz" on the eighth, for example. The strength of such psalm tunes lies in their simple and direct melodies and their equally simple diatonic harmonies. In every congregation which makes more than the feeblest of efforts to sing there will be many persons who will, rightly or wrongly, attempt to sing the under parts. But such persons almost invariably have only the smallest glimmering of knowledge of the reading of music, or no knowledge at all. Any tune, therefore, to the successful singing of which an acquaintance with the rules of notation is necessary is to these people a pitfall and a snare. They may not acknowledge it (for they are very apt to overrate their abilities as readers), but the fact remains. In most of these so-called "old tunes" the wayfaring man, though a fool, should not err. If he could not read a note, a fairly correct ear would carry him through his part in the straightforward progressions, when helped along by a generous accompaniment, with but little danger of mishap. But this plain and simple style is being left far behind. It is now given over to books of parochial missions hymns, collections of the Moody and Sankey stamp, and others which occupy a place quite secondary to that of the Church's Hymnal.

Of the two books, the old "Tucker" and the old "Hutchins," the latter was by far the most congregational, because of the presence of a great deal of music of this order. Within our own limited field of observation we have personal knowledge of so many instances wherein churches, after long use of the "Tucker" Hymnal, either changed to the "Hutchins" outright, or added sets of the latter book, in order to have these very tunes which Dr. Tucker's book lacked, that we are not without reason for believing that the aggregate of such cases must have been large. Without having made a comparison of the new Hymnals directly on this point, we venture the surmise that "Tucker" and "Hutchins" are now about equally balanced in the matter of congregational tunes, if indeed, the preponderance is not slightly on the side of the former. It seems to us that Dr. Hutchins practically strikes his colors before the strong onset of the modern movement.

We are aware that the obvious reply to all this is that many of the hymns to which these settings were attached are not to be found in the new book. That is true; but the tunes might have been used to other words, and still have left ample material with which to satisfy the cravings of the choirs. It is not so much that Dr. Hutchins has reduced the number, or actually thrown out particular melodies, but that he has given us nothing of similar character in place of those discarded. The gaps in the ranks are filled with material of the modern "cathedralized" order.

Here we beg to disclaim any want of sympathy with the "moderns." We do not believe that music of the old style is essentially more "churchly" (whatever that much used but very vague term may mean) than music of the new style. We think we could demonstrate, if time and space permitted, that there is no more of the essence of religion inherent in a Gregorian tone than there is in an Anglican chant. We admire much of the music that is to be found within the covers both of the "Tucker" and "Hutchins" Hymnals. We are willing and glad to follow even Mr. Parker to the limit of his aggressively modern and brilliant manner. But let us distinctly understand that when we do so we squarely turn our backs upon congregational singing and march off in an exactly opposite direction. It seems to us but a truism to say that music which relies upon the ingenuity of its harmonic progressions, and not upon the virtue of its melody and the facility with which it may be sung by the "plain people," will never help on the cause of congregational worship.

For this reason, we deplore the alterations which have been made in the chords of certain tunes (see "Webb" and "Lambeth," for examples). We cannot see that the changes have materially added beauty to the compositions, and they will assuredly prove stumbling-blocks to persons whose ears have become accustomed to the more simple (and commonplace, if you will,) harmonies.

In our notice of the "108 hymns" we expressed a belief that, if the completed

"Hutchins" should bear out the promise of the first instalment, it would be essentially a choir Hymnal. That belief we now consider abundantly justified. When those churches which shall adopt it for congregational purposes have made use of it for a few years it will be time to cast up the accounts and see how far "common praise" has been advanced by it. In the present shifting and unsettled state of church music we venture no predictions beyond those already suggested.

CANON 25 OF TITLE I OF THE DIGEST.

OF CHURCH MUSIC.

§ 1. The Hymns which are set forth by authority, and Anthems in the words of Holy Scripture, are allowed to be sung in all Congregations of this Church before and after Morning and Evening Prayer, and also before and after Sermons, at the discretion of the Minister, whose duty it shall be, by standing directions, or from time to time, to appoint such authorized Hymns or Anthems as are to be sung.

§ 2. It shall be the duty of every Minister of this Church, with such assistance as he may see fit to employ from persons skilled in music, to give order concerning the tunes to be sung at any time in his church; and especially, it shall be his duty to suppress all light and unseemly music, and all indecency and irreverence in the performance, by which vain and ungodly persons profane the service of the sanctuary.

Preface.

IN preparing a musical edition of the Hymnal set forth by the General Convention of 1892, the editor has sought to keep in mind not only the great variety of occasions and services for which the Hymnal provides, but the equally great variety of tastes, and he might well add needs, of those who will use it. Influenced and guided in his work by these two considerations more than by any other, he hopes that this musical edition of the Hymnal of the Church may be found helpful not only in city parishes having well trained choirs, but in country parishes, and missions and homes; above all, that it may do something towards the increase of congregational singing.

The editor would consider it a privilege, did the limits of this preface permit, to mention by name the many clergy, and others, who have aided him with valuable suggestions and contributions. To them all, and to those who have kindly given permission for the use of copyrighted music, he gratefully returns his thanks.

And he is under special obligation for advice and critical assistance to Mr. Horatio W. Parker, organist of Trinity Church, Boston, to Mr. Warren A. Locke, organist of St. Paul's Church, Boston, and Harvard University, Cambridge, and to Mr. Arthur Whiting, of Boston.

DAILY PRAYER.

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.

NO.

Morning.

All praise to Him Who built the skies.....	463
Awake, my soul, and with the sun.....	2
Christ, whose glory fills the skies.....	312
Come, my soul, thou must be waking.....	3
Every morning mercies new.....	4
Forth in Thy Name, O Lord, I go.....	639
Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty.....	383
Lord of all being throned afar.....	313
My Father, for another night.....	640
New every morning is the love.....	1
O Jesu, crucified for man (Friday).....	5
When morning gilds the skies.....	445

Evening.

Abide with me: fast falls the eventide.....	12
All praise to Thee, my God, this night.....	18
At even, ere the sun was set.....	14
Before the ending of the day.....	21
God that madest earth and heaven.....	19
Great God, to Thee my evening song.....	644
Hear my prayer, O Heavenly Father.....	647
Holy Father, cheer our way.....	9
Inspirer and Hearer of prayer.....	643
Now from the altar of our hearts.....	20
Now the day is over.....	535
O Brightness of the Immortal Father's face.....	6
O sweetly solemn thought.....	676
Our day of praise is done.....	23
Saviour, breathe an evening blessing.....	17

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.

NO.

Saviour, when night involves the skies.....	641
Softly now the light of day.....	13
Sun of my soul, Thou Saviour dear.....	11
Sweet Saviour, bless us ere we go.....	22
Tarry with me, O my Saviour.....	642
The day is gently sinking to its close.....	7
The day is past and gone.....	645
The day is past and over.....	16
The radiant morn hath passed away.....	8
The shadows of the evening hours.....	15
The sun is sinking fast.....	10
Three in One, and One in Three.....	389
Through the day Thy love has spared us.....	646
To Zion's hill I lift my eyes.....	648

The Lord's Day.

Almighty Father, bless the word (close of service).....	33
Blest day of God, most calm, most bright..	31
Come let us all with one accord.....	26
Hail, sacred day of earthly rest.....	25
Lord, dismiss us with Thy blessing (close of service).....	34
O Day of rest and gladness.....	24
Our day of praise is done (close of service)..	23
Saviour, again to Thy dear Name (close of service).....	32
This is the Day of Light.....	28
To Thy temple I repair.....	30
Welcome, sweet day of rest.....	27
With joy we hail the sacred day.....	29

THE CHRISTIAN YEAR.

Advent.

Brief life is here our portion.....	406
Come, Thou long expected Jesus.....	48
Day of wrath! O day of mourning.....	36
Great God, what do I see and hear.....	37
Hark! the Voice eternal.....	35
Hosanna to the living Lord.....	316
Jesus came, the heavens adoring.....	318
Lo, He comes with clouds descending.....	39
Lord of mercy and of night (Litany).....	527
O Jesu, Thou art standing.....	357
O quickly come, dread Judge of all.....	42
On Jordan's bank the Baptist's cry.....	44
Once more, O Lord, Thy sign shall be.....	38
Rejoice, rejoice, believers.....	43
The world is very evil.....	405
Thou art coming, O my Saviour.....	317
Ye servants of the Lord.....	186

Christmas.

All my heart this night rejoices.....	538
All praise to Thee, eternal Lord.....	320

Angels from the realms of glory.....	60
Calm on the listening ear of night.....	55
Christians, awake, salute the happy morn.....	56
Come hither, ye faithful.....	50
Hark! the herald angels sing.....	51
Hark! what mean those holy voices.....	61
It came upon the midnight clear.....	59
Joy fills our inmost hearts to-day.....	539
O come, all ye faithful.....	49
O little town of Bethlehem.....	58
Of the Father's love begotten.....	52
Once in royal David's city.....	540
Shout the glad tidings.....	53
Sing, O sing, this blessed morn.....	57
Thou didst leave Thy throne.....	319
While shepherds watched their flocks by night.....	54

Old Year.

A few more years shall roll.....	203
Across the sky the shades of night.....	202
Days and moments quickly flying.....	621

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.	NO.
I'm but a stranger here	623
Jesu, still lead on.....	420
Lead us, O Father, in the paths of peace.....	422
O God of Bethel, by Whose hand.....	417
O God, our help in ages past.....	418

New Year.

For Thy mercy and Thy grace.....	204
From glory unto glory.....	205
Go forward, Christian soldier.....	510
Jesus, I live to Thee.....	666
My times are in Thy hand.....	626
Now a new year opens.....	541
Though faint yet pursuing.....	628

Epiphany.

Arm of the Lord, awake! awake!.....	265
As with gladness men of old.....	65
Blow ye the trumpet, blow.....	330
Brightest and best of the sons of the morn- ing.....	66
Earth has many a noble city.....	63
Fierce was the storm of wind.....	71
Fling out the banner! let it float.....	253
From the Eastern mountains.....	62
Glory to Thee, O Lord.....	70
God of mercy, God of grace.....	332
Hail to the Lord's Anointed.....	323
Hasten the time appointed.....	255
Joy to the world, the Lord is come.....	324
Light of those whose dreary dwelling.....	325
Lord, a Saviour's love displaying.....	258
Lord of all power and might.....	328
Not by Thy mighty hand.....	72
O One with God the Father.....	68
O very God of very God.....	326
Rise, crowned with light, imperial Salem, rise.....	487
Saw you never in the twilight.....	542
Songs of thankfulness and praise.....	67
The morning light is breaking.....	252
Thou Whose Almighty word.....	327
Thy kingdom come, O Lord.....	329
Watchman, tell us of the night.....	331
Within the Father's house.....	69
When from the East the wise men came... 64

Septuagesima, etc.

Alleluia, song of gladness.....	73
Go labour on, spend and be spent.....	584
Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost.....	76
In exile here we wander.....	74
Jesus Christ is passing by.....	592
Lord of the hearts of men.....	75
Praise to the Holiest in the height.....	453
Songs of praise the angels sang.....	476
The strain upraise of joy and praise.....	461
Thou Who on that wondrous journey.....	77
Thou, Whose Almighty word.....	327

Lent.

(See also Holy Week.)

Approach, my soul, the mercy seat.....	652
Art thou weary, art thou languid.....	342
Ashamed of Thee, O dearest Lord.....	598
Awhile in spirit, Lord, to Thee.....	80
By the gracious saving call (Litany).....	529

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.	NO.
Christian, dost thou see them.....	81
Come, my soul, thy suit prepare.....	651
Come unto me, ye weary.....	437
Days and moments quickly flying.....	621
Father, hear Thy children's call (Litany).....	529
Forty days and forty nights.....	79
From every stormy wind that blows.....	481
Glory be to Jesus.....	362
God the Father, God the Son (Litany).....	528
God my Father, hear me pray.....	384
Hark! my soul, it is the Lord.....	599
Have mercy, Lord, on me.....	351
Heal me, O my Saviour, heal.....	356
I could not do without Thee.....	603
I heard the voice of Jesus say.....	673
I hunger and I thirst.....	343
I lay my sins on Jesus.....	605
I need Thee every hour.....	602
I need Thee, precious Jesus.....	601
In mercy, not in wrath.....	352
In the Cross of Christ I glory.....	359
In the hour of trial.....	340
Jesus, and shall it ever be.....	597
Jesus Christ is passing by.....	592
Jesu, from Thy throne on high (Litany).....	526
Jesu, Lord of life and glory.....	350
Jesu, Lover of my soul.....	335
Jesus, merciful and mild.....	611
Jesu, my Lord, my God, my all.....	600
Jesus, my Saviour, look on me.....	341
Jesu, still lead on.....	420
Just as I am, without one plea.....	606
Labouring and heavy laden.....	436
Lamb of God, for sinners slain.....	543
Lo! the voice of Jesus.....	608
Lord, as to Thy dear Cross we flee.....	346
Lord, for ever at Thy side.....	649
Lord, I hear of showers of blessing.....	589
Lord, in this Thy mercy's day.....	88
Lord Jesus, by Thy Passion.....	635
Lord Jesus, think on me.....	614
Lord of mercy and of might (Litany).....	527
Lord, when we bend before Thy throne.....	354
Lord, Who throughout these forty days.....	78
Love of Jesus, all divine.....	607
More love to Thee, O Christ.....	654
My faith looks up to Thee.....	345
My God, I love Thee, not because.....	653
My God, my Father, while I stray.....	667
My God, permit me not to be.....	353
Nearer, my God, to Thee.....	344
O for a closer walk with God.....	660
O gracious God, in Whom I live.....	338
O help us, Lord, each hour of need.....	337
O holy Saviour, Friend unseen.....	610
O Jesus, I have promised.....	615
O Jesu, Lord most merciful.....	360
O Jesu, Saviour of the lost.....	85
O Jesu, Thou art standing.....	357
O Lamb of God, still keep me.....	363
O the bitter shame and sorrow.....	612
O Thou before Whose presence.....	585
O Thou from Whom all goodness flows.....	663
O Thou that hear'st when sinners cry.....	86
O Thou, the contrite sinner's Friend.....	84
O Thou, to Whose all-searching sight.....	339
Only one prayer to-day.....	594

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.

NO.

Onward, Christian, though the regions.....	620
Out of the deep I call.....	349
Prince of Peace, control my will.....	613
Rock of Ages, cleft for me.....	336
Saviour, source of every blessing.....	442
Saviour, when in dust to Thee.....	79
Saviour, Whom I fain would love.....	355
Sinful, sighing to be blest.....	347
Teach us what Thy love has borne (Litany).....	529
The Spirit in our hearts.....	596
There is a fountain filled with blood.....	593
Thou hidden love of God, whose height.....	658
Thy life was given for me.....	604
To-day Thy mercy calls us.....	590
Through Him Who all our sickness felt.....	588
Turned by Thy grace I look within.....	595
Weary of earth and laden with my sin.....	82
Weary of wandering from my God.....	83
When at Thy footstool, Lord, I bend.....	591
When the weary seeking rest.....	609
With broken heart and contrite sigh.....	87

Holy Week.

All glory, laud and honour (Palm Sunday).....	90
At the Cross her station keeping.....	103
Behold the Lamb of God.....	96
Christ, the Life of all the living.....	361
Glory be to Jesus.....	362
Go to dark Gethsemane.....	93
Hail, Thou once despised Jesus.....	365
In His own raiment clad.....	106
Jesu, in Thy dying woes.....	530
Lord Jesus, when we stand afar.....	95
Now, my soul, thy voice upraising.....	99
O come and mourn with me awhile.....	105
O Jesu, Lord most merciful.....	360
O Jesu, we adore Thee.....	364
O Sacred Head surrounded.....	102
O Thou, Who through this holy week.....	92
Resting from His work to-day (East. Even).....	107
Ride on, ride on in majesty (Palm Sunday).....	91
See the destined day arise.....	97
Sing, my tongue, the Saviour's battle.....	98
Sweet the moments rich in blessing.....	104
The grave itself a garden is (East. Even).....	108
The Royal banners forward go (Palm Sun.).....	94
There is a green hill far away.....	342
We sing the praise of Him Who died.....	100
When I survey the wondrous Cross.....	101

Eastertide.

All hail the power of Jesus' Name.....	450
Alleluia! Alleluia!.....	123
Alleluia! sing to Jesus!.....	368

Ashamed of Thee, O dearest Lord.....	598
At even, ere the sun was set.....	14
At the Name of Jesus.....	518
Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve.....	503
Behold, the Master passeth by.....	169
Breast the wave, Christian.....	656
Call Jehovah thy salvation.....	415
Call them in, the poor, the wretched.....	619
Come, Holy Spirit, come.....	376
Come, Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove.....	377
Come, let us sing the song of songs.....	448
Come, my soul, thy suit prepare.....	651
Come unto Me, ye weary.....	437
Days and moments quickly flying.....	621
Father, hear Thy children's call.....	529

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.

NO.

Fight the good fight.....	505
Forward be our watchword.....	523
From every stormy wind that blows.....	481
Glory be to God the Father.....	617
Glory be to Jesus.....	362
Go forward, Christian soldier.....	510
God, my Father, hear me pray.....	384
Guide me, O Thou great Jehovah.....	414
Hail! Thou once despised Jesus.....	365
Hark! my soul, it is the Lord.....	599
Have mercy, Lord, on me.....	351
He leadeth me.....	616
Heal me, O my Saviour, heal.....	356
Heirs of unending life.....	502
How sweet the Name of Jesus sounds.....	433
I could not do without Thee.....	603
I heard the voice of Jesus say.....	673
I lay my sins on Jesus.....	605
I need Thee every hour.....	602
I need Thee, precious Jesus.....	601
I'm but a stranger here.....	623
In mercy, not in wrath.....	352
In the Cross of Christ I glory.....	359
In the hour of trial.....	340
Jesus, and shall it ever be.....	597
Jesus calls us o'er the tumult.....	143
Jesus Christ is passing by.....	592
Jesus, I my cross have taken.....	358
Jesus, Lord of life and glory.....	350
Jesu, Lover of my soul.....	335
Jesus, merciful and mild.....	611
Jesu, my Lord, my God, my all.....	600
Jesus, my Saviour, look on me.....	341
Jesus, the very thought of Thee.....	434
Jesus, Thy boundless love to me.....	625
Just as I am, without one plea.....	606
Labouring and heavy laden.....	436
Lift up your heads, ye mighty gates.....	454
Lo! the voice of Jesus.....	608
Look from Thy sphere of endless day.....	251
Lord, I hear of showers of blessing.....	589
Lord, in this Thy mercy's day.....	86
Lord Jesus, by Thy Passion.....	635
Lord Jesus, think on me.....	614
Lord, when we bend before Thy throne.....	554
Lord, with glowing heart I'd praise Thee.....	443
Love divine, all love excelling.....	432
Love of Jesus all divine.....	607
My faith looks up to Thee.....	345
My God, accept my heart this day.....	429
My God, permit me not to be.....	353
My hope is built on nothing less.....	622
My soul, be on thy guard.....	504
Nearer, my God, to Thee.....	344
O bless the Lord, my soul.....	474
O brothers, lift your voices.....	579
O help us, Lord, each hour of need.....	337
O holy Saviour, Friend unseen.....	610
O Jesus, I have promised.....	615
O Jesu, Lord most merciful.....	360
O Jesu, Saviour of the lost.....	85
O Jesu, Thou art standing.....	357
O Jesu, we adore Thee.....	364
O Lamb of God, still keep me.....	363
O Lord, our strength in weakness.....	278
O Love that casts out fear.....	431
O Saviour, precious Saviour.....	444

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.	NO.
O the bitter shame and sorrow.....	612
O Thou that hearest when sinners cry.....	86
O Thou, the contrite sinners' Friend.....	84
O Thou, to Whose all-scarshing sight.....	339
O what if we are Christ's.....	390
O where shall rest be found.....	513
Of in danger, oft in woe.....	506
Only one prayer to-day.....	594
Onward, Christian soldiers.....	516
Onward, Christian, though the region.....	620
Out of the deep I call.....	349
Prince of Peace, control my will.....	613
Revive Thy work, O Lord.....	618
Rise, my soul, and stretch thy wings.....	512
Rock of Ages, cleft for me.....	336
Saviour, source of every blessing.....	442
Shepherd of tender youth.....	446
Sinful, sighing to be blest.....	347
Sing, my soul, His wondrous love.....	438

FIRST LINE OF HYMN.	NO.
Soldiers of Christ, arise.....	509
Stand up, stand up for Jesus.....	582
The Son of God goes forth to war.....	507
The Spirit in our hearts.....	596
There is a fountain filled with blood.....	593
Thou art the Way, to Thee alone.....	425
Thou hidden love of God, whose height.....	658
Thou knowest, Lord, the weariness.....	630
Though faint, yet pursuing.....	628
Through the night of doubt and sorrow.....	521
Thy life was given for me.....	604
To-day Thy mercy calls us.....	590
Turned by Thy grace I look within.....	595
Wear of carth, and laden with my sin....	82
Wear of wandering from my God.....	83
When at Thy footstool, Lord, I bend.....	591
When I survey the wondrous Cross.....	101
When the weary, seeking rest.....	609
With broken heart and contrite sigh.....	87

L. M.

mf = ss. New ev - ery morn - ing is the love Our waken - ing and up - ris - ing prove;

Thro' sleep and darkness safely brought, Restor'd to life, and pow'r, and thought. AMEN.

mf 2 New mercies, each returning day,
Hover around us while we pray;
New perils past, new sins forgiven, cr New thoughts of God, new hopes of heaven.

mf 4 Old friends, old scenes, will lovelier
As more of heaven in each we see; [be, dim Some softening gleam of love and prayer
Shall dawn on every cross and care.

mf 3 If on our daily course our mind
Be set to hallow all we find,
New treasures still, of countless price,
God will provide for sacrifice.

mf 5 The trivial round, the common task,
Will furnish all we need to ask;
Room to deny ourselves, a road
To bring us daily nearer God.

p 6 Only, O Lord, in Thy dear love, Fit us for perfect rest above;

mf And help us, this and every day,
To live more nearly as we pray.

MORNING HYMN
F. H. Bartholomew

f = 88. A - wake, my soul, and with the sun Thy dai - ly stage of du - ty run;

Shake off dull sloth, and ear - ly rise To pay thymorn - ing sac - ri - fice. A - MEN.

mf 2 Redeem thy misspent time that's past,
And live this day as if thy last;
Improve thy talent with due care;
For the great Day thyself prepare.

mf 5 Lord, I my vows to Thee renew;
Scatter my sins as morning dew;
Guard my first springs of thought and will,
And with Thyself my spirit fill.

mf 3 Wake, and lift up thyself, my heart,
And with the angels bear thy part,
Who all night long, unwearied, sing
High praise to the eternal King.

mf 6 Direct, control, suggest, this day,
All I design, or do, or say;
That all my pow'rs, with all their might,
In Thy sole glory may unite.

PART II

mf 4 All praise to Thee, Who safe has kept,
And hast refreshed me while I slept;
Grant, Lord, when I from death shall wake
I may of endless light partake.

f 7 Praise God, from Whom all blessings flow,
Praise Him, all creatures here below;
Praise Him above, angelic host:
Praise Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.

splendour, See thou render All thy feeble strength can pay. A - MEN.

mf 2 Pray that He may prosper ever

Each endeavour,

When thine aim is good and true;

f But that He may ever thwart thee,

And convert thee,

When thou evil would'st pursue.

p 3 Think that He thy ways beholdeth;
He unfoldeth

Every fault that lurks within;

mf He the hidden shame glossed over

Can discover,

And discern each deed of sin.

p 4 Mayest thou on life's last morrow,

Free from sorrow,

Pass away in slumber sweet;

cr And, released from death's dark sadness,

f Rise in gladness,

That far brighter Sun to greet.

p 5 Only God's free gifts abuse not,
Light refuse not,

But His Spirit's voice obey;

cr Thou with Him shalt dwell, beholding

Light enfolding

All things in unclouded day.

VENI EMMANUEL, No. 2
C. Gounod

mf = 114. O come, O come, Em-man-u-el, And ran-som cap-tive Is-ra-el, p That mourns in lone-ly ex-ile here, Un-til the Son of God ap-pear.

cr Re-joice! Re-joice! Emmanu-el Shall come to thee, O Is-ra-el! A-MEN.

mf 2 O come, Thou Rod of Jesse, free
Thine own from Satan's tyranny;
From depths of hell Thy people save,
cr And give them victory o'er the grave.
ff Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel
Shall come to thee, O Israel!

mf 4 O come, Thou Key of David, come,
And open wide our heavenly home;
Make safe the way that leads on high,
And close the path to misery.
ff Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel
Shall come to thee, O Israel!

mf 3 O come, Thou Day-Spring, come and cheer
Our spirits by Thine Advent here;
Disperse the gloomy clouds of night,
And death's dark shadows put to flight.
ff Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel
Shall come to thee, O Israel!

mf 5 O come, O come, Thou Lord of might!
Who to Thy tribes, on Sinai's height,
In ancient times didst give the law,
In cloud, and majesty, and awe.
ff Rejoice! Rejoice! Emmanuel
Shall come to thee, O Israel!

THE STORY OF THE CROSS

CRUX
T. C. Lewis

I. THE QUESTION

6. 4. 6. 3

1. In His own raiment clad, With His blood dyed; Women walk sor - row - ing By His side.

2. [Heavy that cross to Him, Wea - ry the weight; One who will help Him waits At the gate.

mf 3 See! they are travelling
On the same road;
Simon is sharing with Him the load.]

mf 4 O whither wandering
Bear they that tree?
He Who first carries it,
Who is He?

II. THE ANSWER

mf 5. Fol - low to Cal - va - ry; Tread where He trod, He who for ev - er was Son of God.

mf 6. [You who would love Him stand, Gaze at His face: Tar - ry a while on your Earth - ly race.

mf 7 As the swift moments fly
Through the blest week,
Read the great story the Cross will teach.]

mf 8 Is there no beauty to
You who pass by,
In that lone figure which Marks that sky?

III. THE STORY OF THE CROSS.

p 9. On the Cross lift - ed Thy face we scan, Bearing that Cross for us, Son of Man.

p 10. Thorns form Thy dia - dem, Rough wood Thy throne; For us Thy blood is shed, Us a - lone.

p 11 No pillow under Thee
To rest Thy head;
dim Only the splintered Cross Is Thy bed.

mf 15 Loud scoffs the dying thief,
Who mocks at Thee:
Can it, my Saviour, be
All for me?

pp 12 [Nails pierced Thy hands and feet,
Thy side the spear;
No voice is nigh to say
Help is near.

mf 16 Gazing, afar from Thee,
Silent and lone,
Stand those few weepers Thou Callest Thine own.

p 13 Shadows of midnight fall,
Though it is day:
Thy friends and kinsfolk stand Far away.

mf 17 I see Thy title, Lord, Inscribed above;
"Jesus of Nazareth," King of Love.]

p 14 Loud is Thy bitter cry; Sunk on Thy breast
pp Hangeth Thy bleeding head Without rest.

mf 18 What, O my Saviour, Here didst Thou see,
dim Which made Thee suffer and Die for me?

IV. THE APPEAL.

mf 19. Child of My grief and pain, Watched by My love; I came to call Thee to Realms a - bove.

mf 20 I saw thee wandering Far off from Me;
In love I seek for thee;
Do not flee.

p 21 For thee My blood I shed,
For thee alone;
I came to purchase thee,
For Mine own.

mf 22 Weep thou not for My grief,
Child of My love:
Strive to be with Me in Heaven above.]

V. THE RESPONSE.

f 23. O I will follow Thee, Star of my soul, Thro' the deep shades of life To the goal. AMEN.

f 24 Yea, let Thy cross be borne
Each day by me;
Mind not how heavy, if
But with Thee.

mf 25 Lord, if Thou only wilt,
Make us Thine own,
Give no companion, save Thee alone.

mf 26 Grant through each day of life
To stand by Thee;
cr With Thee, when morning breaks Ever to be.

REDHEAD, No. 76
R. Redhead

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of three systems of staves. The first system has a treble and bass staff with a key signature of two flats (B-flat and E-flat) and a common time signature (C). The melody is in the treble staff, and the piano accompaniment is in the bass staff. The second system continues the melody and accompaniment. The third system concludes the piece with a final chord. Dynamics include mf (mezzo-forte), p (piano), and dim (diminuendo). The lyrics are written below the treble staff.

Drank of Thy cup of suffering, fulfilling thus Thy word.
Curb we all vain impatience to read Thy veiled decree,
And count it joy to suffer, (cr) if so brought nearer Thee.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW

- f* 15 All praise for Thine Apostle, the faithful, pure, and true, Whom underneath the fig tree Thine eye all-seeing knew.
mf Like him may we be guileless, true Israelites indeed, cr That Thy abiding presence our longing souls may feed.

ST. MATTHEW

- f* 16 Praise, Lord, for him whose Gospel Thy human life declared,
Who, worldly gains forsaking, (dim) Thy path of suffering shared.
p From all unrighteous mammon, O give us hearts set free,
That we, whate'er our calling, (cr) may rise and follow Thee.

ST. LUKE

- f* 17 For that "beloved physician," all praise, whose Gospel shows
The Healer of the nations, the Sharer of our woes.
mf Thy wine and oil, O Saviour, on bruised hearts deign to pour, cr And with true balm of Gilead anoint us evermore.

ST. SIMON AND ST. JUDE

- f* 18 Praise, Lord, for Thine Apostles, who sealed their faith to-day:
One love, one zeal impelled them to tread the sacred way.
mf May we with zeal as earnest the Faith of Christ maintain,
And, bound in love as brethren, (dim) at length Thy rest attain.

GENERAL ENDING

- mf* 19 Apostles, Prophets, Martyrs, and all the sacred throng,
Who wear the spotless raiment, who raise the ceaseless song;
p For these, passed on before us, (cr) Saviour, we Thee adore,
And, walking in their footsteps, (f) would serve Thee more and more.
f 20 Then praise we God the Father, and praise we God the Son,
And God the Holy Spirit, eternal Three in One;
Till all the ransomed number fall down before the throne,
And honour, power, and glory ascribe to God alone.

Thy gracious Presence drawing nigh dim Hath made all calm around us.

mf 6 Then, O great God, in years to come,
Whatever fate betide us,
Right onward through our journey home
Be Thou at hand to guide us:
Nor leave us till, at close of life,
cr Safe from all perils, toil, and strife,
f Heaven shall unfold and hide us.

DUNDEE
Scotch Psalter

O Lord, be with us when we sail Up - on the lone - ly deep,

Our guard, when on the si - lent deck The night - ly watch we keep. A - MEN.

mf 2 We need not fear, though all around, cr 'Mid rising winds, we hear
f The multitude of waters surge;
mf For Thou, O God, art near.

mf 3 The calm, the breeze, the gale, the storm,
The ocean and the land,
All, all are Thine, and held within
The hollow of Thy hand.

f 4 As when on blue Gennesaret
Rose high the angry wave,
And Thy disciples quailed in dread, mf One word of Thine could save;

mf 5 So when the fiercer storms arise
From man's unbridled will,

Be Thou, Lord, present in our hearts
To whisper, "Peace, be still."

mp 6 * If duty calls, from threatened strife
To guard our native shore, cr And shot and shell are answering
The booming cannon's roar;

mf 7 Be Thou the main guard of our host Till war and dangers cease.
Defend the right, put up the sword,
And through the world make peace.

mf 8 Across this troubled tide of life
Thyself our pilot be,
cr Until we reach that better land,
The land that knows no sea.

* To be added in time of war.

Detailed description: This is a musical score for a hymn. It features two staves, a treble staff and a bass staff, both in G major (one sharp) and 4/4 time. The piece is divided into two parts: 'CAN.' (Cantata) and 'FULL'. The 'CAN.' part begins with a 'cr' (crescendo) marking and a 'p' (piano) dynamic. The 'FULL' part begins with a 'f' (forte) dynamic. The lyrics are written below the staves, with the words 'Angels of light, Sing-ing to welcome the pil-grims of the night. A-MEN.' appearing under both staves. The score includes various musical notations such as notes, rests, and dynamic markings.

The God of Hosts alone adored, [Lord,
Our Champion, none dare brave Him.

mf 3 Should hell's whole legion round us
All banded to devour us, [press,
Yet this should work us good success,
Nor fear e'en then o'erpower us:

Though this world's prince look fierce

It matters not, his doom is told,
A single word can foil him.

mf 4 Our foes must let the Word stand sure;
No thanks for this they're reaping;
God's Spirit in His way secure,

f Sing, my soul, His won-drous love, Who, from yon bright throne a - bove, f Ev - er watch - ful o'er our race, Still to man ex - tends His grace. A-MEN.

mf 2 Heav'n and earth by Him were made; mf 3 God, the merciful and good,
 All is by His sceptre swayed; p Bought us with the Saviour's blood;
p What are we that He should show cr And, to make our safety sure,
 So much love to us below? Guides us by His Spirit pure.

f 4 Sing, my soul, adore His Name!
 Let His glory be thy theme:
 Praise Him till He calls thee home;

The glo-ries of my God and King, The tri-umphs of His grace! AMEN.

p 2 Jesus, the Name that charms our fears, mf 4 Hear Him, ye deaf; His praise, ye dumb,
That bids our sorrows cease; Your loosened tongues employ;
'Tis music in the sinner's ears, Ye blind, behold your Saviour come;
'Tis life, and health, and peace. And leap, ye lame, for joy!

mf 3 He speaks; and listening to His voice, mf 5 My gracious Master and my God,
New life the dead receive, Assist me to proclaim
The mournful, broken hearts rejoice, And spread through all the world abroad
The humble poor believe. The honours of Thy Name.

The musical score is written for voice and organ. It features a treble and bass staff in E-flat major (three flats) and common time. The tempo is marked '♩ = 88.' and the dynamics include 'ff' (fortissimo) and 'p' (piano). The lyrics are: 'In loud ex - alt - ed strains, The King of glo - ry praise; O'er heav'n and earth He reigns, Thro' ev - er - last - ing days; But Si - on, with His presence blest, Is His de - light, His chos - en rest, Is His de - light, His chos - en rest. A - MEN.' The organ part consists of chords and single notes, with some small notes indicated for the final phrase.

Small notes to be played by the Organ.

mf 2 O King of glory, come;

LITANY No. 2

E. H. Turpin

mf Je - su, with Thy Church a - bid, Be her Sav - iour, Lord, and Guide,

While on earth her faith is tried: We be-seech Thee, hear us. A - MEN.

mf 2 Keep her life and doctrine pure,
Help her, patient to endure,
Trusting in Thy promise sure:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 3 Be Thou with her all the days,
May she, safe from error's ways,
Toil for Thine eternal praise:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 4 May her voice be ever clear,
Warning of a judgment near,
Telling of a Saviour dear:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 5 All her fettered powers release,
Bid our strife and envy cease,
p Grant the heavenly gift of peace:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 6 May she one in doctrine be,
One in truth and charity,
Winning all to faith in Thee:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 7 May she guide the poor and blind,
Seek the lost until she find,
And the broken-hearted bind:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 8 Save her love from growing cold,
Make her watchmen strong and bold,
Fence her round, Thy peaceful fold:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 9 May her priests Thy people feed,
Shepherds of the flock indeed,
Ready, where Thou call'st to lead:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

p 10 Judge her not for work undone,
Judge her not for fields unwon,

cr Bless her works in Thee begun:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

p 11 For the past give deeper shame,
cr Make her jealous for Thy Name,
Kindle zeal's most holy flame:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

f 12 Raise her to her calling high,
Let the nations far and nigh
Hear Thy heralds' warning cry:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

f 13 May her lamp of truth be bright,
Bid her bear aloft its light
Through the realms of heathen night:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 14 May her scattered children be
From reproach of evil free,
Blameless witnesses for Thee:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 15 Arm her soldiers with the Cross,
Brave to suffer toil or loss,
Counting earthly gain but dross:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

cr 16 May she holy triumphs win,
Overthrow the hosts of sin,
Gather all the nations in:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

f 17 May she soon all glorious be,
Spotless and from wrinkle free,
Pure, and bright, and worthy Thee:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 18 Fit her all Thy joy to share
In the home Thou dost prepare,
And be ever blessed there:
We beseech Thee, hear us.

mf 2 Little children need not fear,
When they know that Thou art near:
Thou dost love us, Saviour dear:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 3 Little hearts may love Thee well,
Little lips Thy love may tell,
Little hymns Thy praises swell:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 4 Little lives may be divine,
Little deeds of love may shine,
Little ones be wholly Thine:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mp 5 Jesu, once an infant small,
Cradled in the oxen's stall,
cr Though the God and Lord of all:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 6 Once a child so good and fair,
p Feeling want, and toil, and care,
All that we may have to bear:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 7 Jesu, Thou dost love us still,
And it is Thy holy will
That we should be safe from ill:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 8 Be Thou with us every day,
In our work and in our play,
When we learn and when we pray:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

p 9 When we lie asleep at night,
Ever may Thy angels bright
cr Keep us safe till morning light:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

f 10 Make us brave without a fear,
Make us happy, full of cheer,
Sure that Thou art always near:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 11 May we prize our Christian name,
May we guard it free from blame,
p Fearing all that causes shame:
Hear us, Holy Jesu,

mf 12 May we grow from day to day,
Glad to learn each holy way,
Ever ready to obey:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 13 May we ever try to be
From all sinful tempers free,
p Pure and gentle, Lord, like Thee:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 14 May our thoughts be undefiled,
May our words be true and mild,
Make us each a holy child:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 16 Jesu, from Thy heavenly throne,
Watching o'er each little one,
p Till our life on earth is done:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 15 Jesu, Son of God most high,
p Who didst in a manger lie,
Who upon the Cross didst die:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

mf 17 Jesu, Whom we hope to see
Calling us in heaven to be Happy evermore with Thee:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.

ST. JOHN, xix. 26, 27

- p* 1 Jesu, loving to the end
Her whose heart Thy sorrows rend,
And Thy dearest human friend,
Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- p* 2 May we in Thy sorrows share,
cr And for Thee all peril dare,
mf And enjoy Thy tender care:
p Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- mf* 3 May we all Thy loved ones be,
All one holy family,
Loving for the love of Thee:
p Hear us, Holy Jesu.

PART IV

"My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?"

ST. MATT. xxvii. 46

- p* 1 Jesu, whelmed in fears unknown,
With our evil left alone,
While no light from heav'n is shown:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- p* 2 When we vainly seem to pray,
And our hope seems far away,
cr In the darkness be our stay:
p Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- p* 3 Though no Father seem to hear,
Though no light our spirits cheer,
cr Tell our faith that God is near:
p Hear us, Holy Jesu.

PART V

"I thirst."—ST. JOHN, xix. 28

- p* 1 Jesu, in Thy thirst and pain,
While Thy wounds Thy life-blood drain,
Thirsting more our love to gain:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- p* 2 Thirst for us in mercy still;
All Thy holy work fulfil:
Satisfy Thy loving will:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- p* 3 May we thirst Thy love to know;
Lead us in our sin and woe
cr Where the healing waters flow:
p Hear us, Holy Jesu.

PART VI

"It is finished."—ST. JOHN, xix. 30

- p* 1 Jesu, all our ransom paid,
All Thy Father's will obeyed,
By Thy suff'rings perfect made:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- p* 2 Save us in our soul's distress,
cr Be our help to cheer and bless,
mf While we grow in holiness:
p Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- mf* 3 Brighten all our heav'nward way,
With an ever holier ray,
cr Till we pass to perfect day:
p Hear us, Holy Jesu.

PART VII

"Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

ST. LUKE, xxiii. 46

- p* 1 Jesu, all Thy labour vast,
All Thy woe and conflict past,
Yielding up Thy soul at last:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- p* 2 When the death shades round us lower,
Guard us from the tempter's power,
Keep us in that trial hour:
Hear us, Holy Jesu.
- cr* 3 May Thy life and death supply
Grace to live and grace to die,
mf Grace to reach the home on high:

THE CHILDREN'S KING
D. B. Mac Leod

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It consists of three systems of music. The first system begins with a treble and bass staff in G major (one sharp) and 4/4 time. The tempo is marked '♩ = 90'. The first line of music is marked mf and includes the lyrics 'With glad-some hearts we come With - in our ho - ly home,'. The second system continues the melody and includes the lyrics 'Our Saviour's Name to sing. O well His House we love!'. The third system concludes the piece with the lyrics 'O joy all joys a - bove, To praise the children's King! AMEN.'.

2 The angels sing on high
Thy glory through the sky,
And then to earth they wing;
To guard us while we sleep,
And, as their watch they keep,
To praise the children's King.

3 O may we, while we live,

EVANGEL
J. Stainer*May be sung in unison if preferred.*

Musical score for the hymn "There's a Friend for little children". The score is written for two staves (treble and bass clef) in G major (one sharp) and 6/8 time. The tempo is marked "♩ = 63". The score consists of four systems of music. The first system includes the lyrics "There's a Friend for lit - tle chil - dren, A - bove the bright blue sky,". The second system includes "A Friend Who nev - er chang - es, Whose love will nev - er die;". The third system includes "Our earth - ly friends may fail us, And change with changing years,". The fourth system includes "This Friend is al - ways wor - thy Of that dear Name He bears. A-MEN." The score uses various dynamics: mf (mezzo-forte) for the first two systems, p (piano) for the third system, and f (forte) for the fourth system.

7. 7. 7. 7. 7.

First system of the musical score. It consists of a treble and bass staff. The treble staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp (F#), and a 3/4 time signature. The first measure is marked with a piano (p) dynamic. The melody is written in eighth and quarter notes. The bass staff begins with a bass clef and a 3/4 time signature. The accompaniment is written in quarter and eighth notes. The lyrics "Lord, Thy chil-dren guide and keep, As with fee-ble steps they press" are written below the staves.

Second system of the musical score. It continues the melody and accompaniment from the first system. The treble staff has a forte (f) dynamic marking. The lyrics "On the path-way rough and steep Thro' the wea-ry wil-der-ness." are written below the staves.

Third system of the musical score. It continues the melody and accompaniment. The treble staff has a forte (f) dynamic marking. The lyrics "Ho-ly Je-sus, day by day, Lead us in the nar-row way. A-MEN." are written below the staves. The system ends with a double bar line.

How dreary and how lonely
This changeful life would be,
Without the sweet communion,
The secret rest with Thee!

p And soothe, and hush, and calm it,
cr O blessed Lord, but Thine.

mf 5 I could not do without Thee;
No other friend can read
The spirit's strange deep longings,
Interpreting its need;

And soon in solemn loneliness
The river must be passed;
cr But Thou wilt never leave me,
And though the waves roll high,
f I know Thou wilt be near me,
p And whisper, "It is I."

p 4 If Thou should'st call me to resign mf 7 Then, when on earth I breathe no more
What most I prize, it ne'er was mine;
I only yield Thee what is Thine;
"Thy will be done!"

My God, to Thee I leave the rest;
p "Thy will be done!"

Blend it with Thine, and take away
All that now makes it hard to say,
p "Thy will be done!"

cr I'll sing upon a happier shore,

THE MORNING AND EVENING CANTICLES

AND

OCCASIONAL ANTHEMS

POINTED FOR CHANTING BY THE COMMISSION ACTING UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

ATTEST { H. A. NEELY, Chairman.
CHAS. L. HUTCHINS, Secretary.

In putting forth this Pointing of the Canticles, etc., in accordance with the direction of the General Convention, the Commission would call attention to the great importance and practical usefulness of the following suggestions taken from the Preface to the "Cathedral Psalter:"—

1. The words, from the commencement of each verse and half-verse, up to the accented syllable, are called the Recitation.

2. On reaching the accented syllable, and beginning with it, the music of the chant commences, in strict time (à tempo), the upright strokes corresponding to the bars. The Recitation must therefore be considered as outside the chant, and may be of any length. The note on which the Recitation is made is called the Reciting-note.

3. If there is no syllable after that which is accented, the accented syllable must be held for one whole bar or measure.

4. An asterisk (*) is a direction to take breath. Other stops (, ;) must be attended to as in good reading.

5. As the accent holds the position of the first beat of the first bar, it is unnecessary to sing it louder than any of the words recited: its position, musically, will give it quite enough emphasis.

Psalm 24.

Ff THE earth is the Lord's * and all that | therein | is: the compass of the world,
and | they that | dwell there | in.

2 For he hath founded it up | on the | seas: and prepared | it up | on the | floods.
p 3 Who shall ascend into the hill | of the | LORD: or who shall rise up | in his | holy | place?

4 Even he that hath clean hands and a | pure * = | heart: and that hath not lift up his mind unto vanity * nor sworn | to de | ceive his | neighbour.

cr 5 He shall receive the blessing | from the | LORD: and righteousness from the |
God of | his sal | vation.

6 This is the generation of | them that | seek him: even of them that | seek thy | face O | Jacob.

f 7 Lift up your heads O ye gates * and be ye lift up ye ever | lasting | doors: and
the King of | glory | shall come | in.

p 8 Who is this | King of | glory: (f) it is the LORD strong and mighty * even the |
LORD * = | mighty | in | battle.

Ff 9 Lift up your heads O ye gates * and be ye lift up ye ever | lasting | doors: and
the King of | glory | shall come | in.

p 10 Who is this | King of | glory: (f) Even the LORD of hosts | he * is the | King of | glory.

Ff Glory be to the Father | and * to the | Son: and | to the | Holy | Ghost;

F As it was in the beginning * is now, and | ever | shall be: world without | end * = |

A * = | men.

p LORD, let me know mine end * and the number | of my | days: that I may be certified how | long I | have to | live.

2 Behold, thou hast made my days as it were a | span * = | long: and mine age is even as nothing in respect of thee * and verily every man living is | alto | gether | vanity.

3 For man walketh in a vain shadow * and disquieteth him | self in | vain: he heaveth up riches, and cannot tell | who shall | gather | them.

cr 4 And now, LORD, what | is my | hope: truly my | hope is | even * in | thee.

5 Deliver me from all | mine of | fences: and make me not a re | buke un | to * the | foolish.

p 6 When thou with rebukes dost chasten man for sin * thou makest his beauty to consume away * like as it were a moth | fretting * a | garment: every man | therefore | is but | vanity.

cr 7 Hear my prayer O LORD * and with thine ears con | sider * my | calling: hold not thy | peace * = | at my | tears;

p 8 For I am a stranger with thee | and a | sojourner: as | all my | fathers | were.

9 O spare me a little * that I may re | cover * my | strength: before I go hence | and be | no more | seen.

f Glory be to the Father | and * to the | Son: and | to the | Holy | Ghost;

f As it was in the beginning * is now, and | ever | shall be: world without | end * = |
A * = | men.

mf LORD, thou hast | been our | refuge: from óne gener | ation | to an | other.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth * or ever the eáth and the | world were | made: thou art God from everlasting and | world with | out * = | end.

p 3 Thou turnest man | to de | struction: again thou sayest, Cóme a | gain ye | children * of | men.

mf 4 For a thousand years in thy sight are | but * as | yesterday: seeing that is pást as a | watch * = | in the | night.

5 As soon as thou scatterest them * they are éven | as a | sleep: and fáde away | sudden * ly | like the | grass.

f 6 In the mórning it is green and | groweth | up; but in the evening it is cut dówn | dried | up and | withered.

p 7 For we consume áway in | thy dis | pleasure; and are afraid at thy | wrathful | indig | nation.

8 Thou hast sét our mis | deeds be | fore thee: and our secret sins in the | light * = | of thy | countenance.

9 For when thou art angry, áll our | days are | gone: we bring our years to an end * as it wére a | tale * = | that is | told.

mf 10 The days of our age are threescore years and ten * and though men be so strong that they cóme to | fourscore | years: (p) yet is their strength then but labour and sorrow * so soon pásseth it a | way and | we are | gone.

cr 11 O téach us to | number * our | days; that we may apply our | hearts * = | unto | wisdom.

F f Glory be to the Fátther | and * to the | Son: ánd | to the | Holy | Ghost;

F As it was in the beginning * is nów, and | ever | shall be: wóld without | end * = | A * = | men.
